

Porch Furniture

The greatest opportunity for securing good, substantial, comfortable furniture at our

SALE PRICES

Just received from Heywood Bros.—A splendid line in maple frame, light or green green finish, rubbed dull, round seat and back or double cane seat and back. Prices from $3.99 to $7.49 each.

CANVAS CHAIRS

Oak frame, reclining, with foot extension of plain, with or without arms. Prices from $1.50 to $4.99 each.

COMFORT CHAIRS

Reclining at full length, entirely automatic. The chair is to be seen at our store. New arrivals from the factory, and up-to-date in style and quality.

STRONG BROS.

Furniture Headquarters
Strong Block 2nd and Copper
We Give Green Trading Stamps

BIGGEST BLANK CHECK ON RECORD IS UNANIMOUSLY VOTED BY HOUSE

Five Billion Dollars Is Authorized by British Parliament for Expenditure in Carrying on War.

BILLIONS APPROPRIATED BY PREVIOUS ACTS

Chancellor of Exchequer Announces That New Provision Is Expected to Be Ample for All Purposes.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) London, June 21 (1915, P. M.)—The House of Commons adjourned tonight after unanimously giving a first reading to the bill providing the new chancellor of the exchequer, Ramsay MacDonald, with a blank check which may amount, at a maximum, to £5,000,000,000.

The vote of credit for £250,000,000 (£1,250,000,000) passed last week by the House simply authorized the government to spend that much for war purposes, but did not provide for the manner in which this sum should be raised. Tonight's enactment was in the form of a resolution, which empowers the government to raise not only the £250,000,000 deemed necessary to pay the cost of the war, but at the rate of £3,000,000 sterling daily for a limited period, but as much more as may be needed.

Chancellor Explains Needs.

The chancellor of the exchequer made a long explanation of the proposed loan and in closing said that on the technical question as to the limit of the new loan it would be dangerous to disclose the necessity for not fixing any definite sum, and he added that the only figure he could put in the bill was a maximum which would cover all requirements of the new loan, including provisions enabling the subscribers to previous war loans and the holders of consols to participate.

The maximum would not fall short of £5,000,000,000 sterling.

Blank Check for $5,000,000,000.

The new loan, which is now provided for in an indefinite amount, will be issued at par, will bear interest at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent and will be redeemed at the option of the government between 1925 and 1945. While the chancellor of the exchequer is to receive a blank check for £5,000,000,000, he explained in his speech that he did not want to be asked for this sum, and if he did not get it the loan would not be a failure as he really did not expect to get it. He deemed it advisable, however, to fix upon a sum in round figures to indicate the necessity of the situation.

The chancellor said he wished to appeal to the patriotism of the country to see that the loan was successful for ourselves and our allies, and added:

"I want the public to lend the money in a way which will not oblige us to repay during the war."

Although the stock exchange had closed before Mr. MacDonald's statement was published, the proposed new loan is said to have met with a favorable reception in the financial districts but it is not yet possible to say how the terms of the loan would affect other financial issues such as consols and last November's war loan.

IMPERATIVE PROTEST TO THE PRESIDENT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) New York, June 21.—One hundred importers of goods from Germany and Austria, who are members of the National American Exporters' association, met here today and passed a resolution which it was announced would be presented to President Wilson tomorrow protesting against the interference by belligerent nations with "non-contraband goods shipped from neutral ports in neutral vessels to ports in the United States."

"We no longer hear anything save the sound of the bell. Reports with nations to Italy are suppressed; the representatives accredited to us have had to leave Rome. Our guarantees and our means are by as much weakened. We have faith in the present government but we tremble to see ourselves exposed to the uncertainties of public life in Italy."

"There is a famine in perpetual ferment. Would you say it were absurd in these last days to fear a day of revolution? What will tomorrow bring; how would the people receive defeat; how would they behave in victory?"

"Every movement of this people—the most impressionable of the earth—has its reflex here. And we feel ourselves less protected today."

"Do you now understand why we oppose with all our force the rupture of Italian neutrality?"

The pope closed his eyes and seemed to dream an instant. Then he said in deep tones:

"The future is dark."

"Does your holiness expect to take any initiative to promote peace?"

To this the pope replied:

"The hour does not seem to me to have come. I should not act save with the fullest knowledge and I weaken the moral authority which I hold of God and which I must endeavor to bring peace again among men. But I shall seek the opportunity; I shall seize the first hand outstretched."

MIDDLE WEST FLOODS REPORTED STATIONARY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Kansas City, June 21.—With both the Kansas and Missouri rivers remaining virtually stationary all day, and a slight fall expected in both late tonight, all flood danger has passed for the present, according to an announcement of the weather bureau here.

COURT ORDER IS SURPRISING TO THE LAWYERS IN HARVESTER CASE

Reopened for Argument Without Request by Attorneys for Government or for Defendants, It Is Said.

MYSTERY SHROUDS MOST UNUSUAL PROCEDURE

Believed That Justices Regard Decision to Be Reached as So Important as to Demand Greatest Care.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Washington, June 21.—The International Harvester case, foremost of all the government's anti-trust prosecutions now in the supreme court, was re-opened today for a new argument for the fall term beginning in October.

Neither the government nor the company has asked a re-hearing; the court's action was a complete surprise to attorneys for both sides and was announced without explanation. From the precedent and practice it was inferred in some quarters that the court stands very close on the case and desires re-argument for its own benefit; or that in view of the prime importance of the case to the interpretation of the Sherman law in new fields, re-argument has been ordered in the hope of setting a unanimous decision. That was the situation in the Standard Oil litigation. Although it was assumed that the court stood very close in that case there was only one dissent.

Many New Questions.

Close observers of the court's procedure and the government's anti-trust proceedings point out, too, that a re-argument of the Harvester suit may have been ordered because of the many questions involved which have not been raised in trust cases heretofore, and because many of them are within the purview of the recently enacted trade commission and Clayton trust laws.

The case, which is regarded as of first importance, particularly in view of the similarity to the case which the government recently lost in the lower courts, cannot now be decided before the fall and probably in the winter months. A decision has anxiously been awaited in business and financial circles for months.

Attorney General Gregory is known to have expressed the view recently that the usefulness of the Sherman law in the future regulation of business depends largely upon the attitude of the supreme court in the Harvester case. Pending a decision it was said tonight, the department of justice probably will not institute any important anti-trust cases.

The government's policy in the steel "trust" suit has been announced, and Mr. Gregory, in conformity with his announcement, will make the customary appeal from the decision of the lower courts.

PASSENGER STEAMER BLUFFS SUBMARINE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) London, June 21 (3:05 p. m.)—The Anchor line steamer Cameronia, under charter to the Cunard line, had a narrow escape from a submarine in the Irish sea on her voyage from New York to Liverpool, according to Peter Fletcher of New York, one of the sail-on passengers. The Cameronia arrived in Liverpool Sunday.

Mr. Fletcher says that during the run through the Irish sea a submarine came up out of the water, showing the top of her conning tower. To save the Cameronia, Captain Kinnard headed his vessel for the submarine, which dived. After passing the spot where the submarine was last seen, the steamer had collided with it. Captain Kinnard changed the course of his vessel and got away safely.

The Cameronia sailed from New York June 11 for Glasgow by way of Liverpool. She had on board about forty first cabin passengers and a large number of persons in the second cabin.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Washington, June 21.—In a far-reaching decision which crowns with victory the government's fight to compel the railroads to discontinue from their coal companies, the supreme court today ordered that the Lackawanna railroad be enjoined from transporting coal of the Lackawanna Coal company under the so-called 1909 contract, and reversed the decision of the lower court which was against the government.

The court today reversed the federal district court in New Jersey which dismissed the government's Sherman law and commodities clause suit against the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad and the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal company.

The government charged that the contract by which the railroad sold to the coal company its coal was not a bona fide transaction and violated both the anti-trust law and the commodities clause of the Hepburn law. It is the second suit of the government against the railroad under the commodities clause.

Department of justice officials said the court's decision was a clean-cut victory in the government's long fight to compel discontinuation of the railroads and their coal companies. Its effects, they said, are far-reaching.

Justice Lamar announced the court's unanimous decision and sent the case back for further proceedings.

Justice Lamar said that while it had not been proved, it was evident that the railroad could at least affect the price of coal in New York and so had an interest in the coal affected by its action. The case was remanded without prejudice to any points to which the government had not yet raised.

GUSTAV STAHL ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) New York, June 21.—Gustav Stahl the German reservist who was indicted on a charge of perjury a week ago by a federal grand jury, entered a plea of not guilty when arraigned in the United States district court here today. The perjury charge is based on an affidavit in which Stahl is alleged to have sworn that he saw four guns on the Lusitania when she left this port on April 30.

The trial of the case was set for July 21, and in default of $10,000 bail the defendant was remanded to the Tombs prison.

CRUISER CHATTANOOGA IN SAN FRANCISCO BAY

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) San Francisco, June 21.—The protected cruiser Chattanooga, which sailed from San Diego Thursday a few hours after the cruiser Colorado left for the Mexican coast, and was supposed to be following the Colorado, is in San Francisco bay.

Her arrival here was not reported by marine agencies and became known only through reports from Mare Island navy yard that supplies were being sent down to be put on board. The Chattanooga entered San Francisco bay Saturday night.

STRICT REGULATIONS BY ITALY'S COMMANDER

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Berlin, June 21 (via London, 8:30 p. m.)—A dispatch from Lugano, Switzerland, to the Morozzoni, says that a proclamation issued by General Pruganov of the Italian army to inhabitants of Austrian territory occupied by the Italians, contains the following passage:

"Whoever treats Italian troops malevolently or offers resistance will be shot down. Whoever approaches Italian camps or houses for military purposes without causes will be delivered to a court-martial."

ADVERTISING MEN FAVOR HONESTY IN ADVERTISING

Appeal Is Made for Pardon of Louis Victor Eytinge, Expert Publicity Man, Serving Term in Arizona.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Chicago, June 21.—Reports of the steps taken by the state of Illinois to prevent fraudulent advertising were cheered by the delegates to the eleventh annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World which opened today. Lieutenant Governor Barrett, O'Hara welcomed the delegates in behalf of Governor Dunne and told of legislation to regulate advertising. The sentiment of "advertising honesty" was the dominant note of the day's proceedings. One of the bills the lieutenant governor discussed deals with misrepresentation in the matter of price marks. Another concerns the coupon system of attracting trade.

A greeting from the advertising men was sent to Louis Victor Eytinge, now serving a life sentence in the Arizona penitentiary at Florence. A resolution introduced by George W. Cole, board of Arizona to give Eytinge his liberty. Eytinge, it was urged, has in the eight years he has been within the penitentiary walls on a life sentence, completely rehabilitated himself, physically, mentally and morally, and by the intrinsic merit of the advertising work he has sent out from within the prison walls has made himself a feature in the world of advertising. For two years he has had a place on the program at the annual convention of the United States subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

NEW ALIGNMENT IN MEXICO NOW BELIEVED SURE TO TAKE PLACE

Washington of Opinion That Angeles Has Broken With Villa and Obregon With Carranza.

PEACE MOVEMENT IS SEEN IN DEVELOPMENTS

Men Most Powerful and Intelligent Are Thought Tired of Incessant Condition of Lawlessness.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Washington, June 21.—The unexpected arrival in the United States of Gen. Felipe Angeles, who has been General Villa's principal military expert since the split in the Mexican constitutionalist movement and persistent reports despite denials, of friction between Carranza and his field leader, Obregon, have given rise to speculation in official circles here as to whether certain contending elements in the contending factions are about to inaugurate a definite movement to bring about peace in Mexico as urged by President Wilson in his recent statement.

Denies Break With Villa.

General Carranza, passing through Chicago today en route to Boston, where he will visit his family, denied there had been any break between himself and Villa. This was asserted also by representatives of General Villa in Washington, including Enrique C. Lorente, Villa's special agent and a close personal friend of Angeles. Although disclaiming any official knowledge, Villa's spokesmen intimated that Angeles had been commissioned to discuss peace plans with the Washington government and that some of the leading supporters of General Carranza, including Obregon and members of the Carranza cabinet whose resignations have been accepted, were cognizant of efforts to be made for a solution of Mexican difficulties.

Discredit Carranza's Denial.

General Carranza, who has thus far declined to accept Villa's offer for a conference to devise a plan for re-establishment of constitutional government, formally notified his Washington representative today that reports of a break between himself and Obregon were without foundation. Notwithstanding this disclaimer, officials here were inclined to the belief that Obregon and other constitutionalist leaders who have thus far stood with Carranza in his uncompromising attitude, were now ready to take peace.

Resignations.

The resignations from the Carranza cabinet of Raphael Zubizaran, Jesus Urzua and Eusebio Verdugo, friends of Obregon, were regarded in official quarters as particularly significant in view of Carranza's refusal to consider Villa's appeal for a conference. Consul Silliman at Vera Cruz reported to the state department that Carranza had accepted these resignations, together with that of Luis Cabrera, minister of finance. Carranza's agents here, however, insisted that the general had not accepted Cabrera's resignation and that he had assured them Cabrera would remain in the cabinet.

Warns British Subjects.

Of particular interest to Washington officials was the announcement from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been given by the United States to American citizens.

A few hours before news of the British warning reached the United States, the state department from London late today of the warning issued by Sir Edward Grey, secretary for foreign affairs, to British subjects against visiting Mexico unless obliged to do so. Such warnings repeatedly have been